WORLD'S SWEET TOOTH HUNGRY BECAUSE OF WAR'S SUGAR FAMINE

Fifty-Three Per Cent of Entire Production Is Grown in Countries or Colonies Concerned in Conflict.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The effect of the present war in Europe on the geography of the world's sugar production is strikingly shown in a statement just issued by the National Geographic Society. This statement is as follows:

"Fifty-three out of every hundred pounds of sugar produced in the world is grown in the countries now at war and their colonies. The total production of the world is estimated at approximately 18,000,000 tons. This production is made up of cane sugar and beet sugar. The total yield of cane sugar having been 9,545,000 tons, and of beet sugar, 8,455,000 tons in 1912.

"One of the peculiar facts connected with the sugar map of the world is that while Europe produces more than 93 out of every hundred pounds of beet sugar grown, it yields only one pound out of every six hundred of cane sugar. Of Europe's total production of beet sugar, amounting to 7,800,000 tons, 5,666,000 tons grew in belligerent territory in 1912. Nearly all of this product is now entirely isolated from the outside world, being grown mainly in Germany, Austria Hungary and Russia. What this means to the world is revealed by the fact that more than two-thirds of the world's sugar is not consumed in the country of its origin, this condition arising from the fact that the great sugar-using nations are principally outside of the belts of sugar production.

"Any scarcity of sugar, growing out of the war, will effect the United States more seriously than any other country, for the reason that American people are per capita the heaviest users of sugar in the world. With one-sixteenth of the world's population, the United States consumes more than one-fifth of its sugar. How rapidly this country is becoming a nation of sugar eaters is revealed by a reference to the tables of sugar consumption of the past half century. Fifty years ago the people of the United States ate 18 pounds of sugar per capita. Five years later, in 1870, they were using 25 pounds per capita. In 1880, the per capita consumption had gone up to 40 pounds. Twenty-five years ago it had risen to 51 pounds. In 1900 it had climbed still higher to 59 pounds. By 1910 the mercury in the sugar consumption thermometer had reached 80. Today the per capita consumption is upwards of 85 pounds. "It appears that the cane sugar industry will suffer very little in the matter of the total crop yield as a result of the war. On the other hand the beet sugar business will suffer very heavily. The present Russian crop has been almost entirely tied up by inability to get exports out of the country, while next year's crop is threatened with a shortage resulting from the destruction of the industry in Poland, where so much of Russia's sugar is produced. The reports from France indicate that the rich sugar beet lands of the northern section were harvested last season under the direction of the Germans, and that most of the sugar factories in this territory have been dismantled to secure their copper for the manufacture of war munitions.

"In formation from Germany indicates that the empire will plant only three-fourths of its normal area in sugar beets this year. This would result in cutting down Germany's sugar yield by more than 650,000 tons. "Of course the prospective shortage in beet production will be somewhat offset by the falling off in sugar consumption incident to the financial stringency of the world, caused by the war. Great Britain, annually buying nearly 4,000,000 tons of sugar, will probably cut down her consumption as much as Germany will cut down her production.

COTTON FOR GERMANY.

AMSTERDAM, April 17.—A telegram from Gothenburg, Sweden, to the Bremen Telegraph states that the harbor of Gothenburg is overcrowded with steamers on their way from America to Germany. Over half a million bales of cotton have passed through Gothenburg from Germany since the beginning of the war.

Gov. Fielder of New Jersey signed a bill permitting Rockefeller Foundation to establish $1,000,000 institute for animals research in state.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat, which clogs Kidneys, then Back hurts and Bladder bothers you

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders. You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad

Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders. Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications. A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.
